

DR. ARMSTRONG QUITS BELLEVUE UNDER CHARGES

Trustees Promptly Accept Resignation of Hospital's Medical Director.

HEALTH SAID TO BE BAD

Accusations Grew Out of Sale of Library to Institution
by Brother-in-Law.

Dr. Samuel T. Armstrong, general medical director of Bellevue and Allied Hospitals, handed in his resignation last night and the board of trustees promptly accepted it.

Dr. Armstrong has been under charges for some time and it was expected that he would resign. His action was said to be due to ill-health and not to fear of an investigation. Dr. Frederick G. Peterson, of No. 4 West Fifth street, certified that he had attended Dr. Armstrong and found his nerves in such bad condition that he would not be able to resume his duties for several weeks at least.

The resignation was tendered through R. M. Morgan, of No. 38 Park row, attorney for the superintendent, and was acted on without the board's consulting with the Corporation Counsel. John F. O'Brien, of the Corporation Counsel's office, attended the meeting and was asked to prepare a new civil service list from which Dr. Armstrong's successor may be selected. Among those who may obtain the position is Dr. Albert T. Weston, Deputy Coroner. One of the board members said last night that the trustees had acted entirely within their rights. The charges against the superintendent grew out of the sale by him of a library, known as the "Index Medicus," to his brother-in-law, Dr. Jones Collins, a tailor. It is said that the books were given in payment of a debt. Collins sold the set to Bellevue Hospital to be used in the pathological department. This transaction was considered a misdeed and the charges were the result.

Early in August, Dr. Armstrong went on his vacation and when his holidays had expired the trustees extended the time to Oct. 13. There was a great deal of talk about the affair at the time and it was whispered that the board would let the superintendent resign on the ground that the relations existing between the trustees and the physician would militate against his usefulness to the institution.

Dr. Armstrong leaves a position carrying with it a salary of $6,000 a year. He also has rent free, a house at No. 14 East Thirty-seventh street. He has been living at this place since he was appointed to the position, July 13, 1905, but will vacate immediately.
